Horizon

You spend your childhood looking ahead,
Out across that vast valley rolling with mossy grass,
Gazing out to that line just atop the last hill.
With fascination of beauty and yearning for growth,
You walk ever toward that horizon as you burn with uncertainty.
The crimson and yellow colors beckon you
As your strength grows and your innocence ebbs.
You begin to question what path lies beyond.
Although the steps you take may be uneven,
You finally reach that line discovering yet another.
And as the lights of the sky flash before you,
Proudly take that first step to this next horizon.
Always remember your past and the people who filled it.
Although the direction you will take may be unclear now,
Transcending that summit is neither a beginning nor an end.

From the Dawn of Time

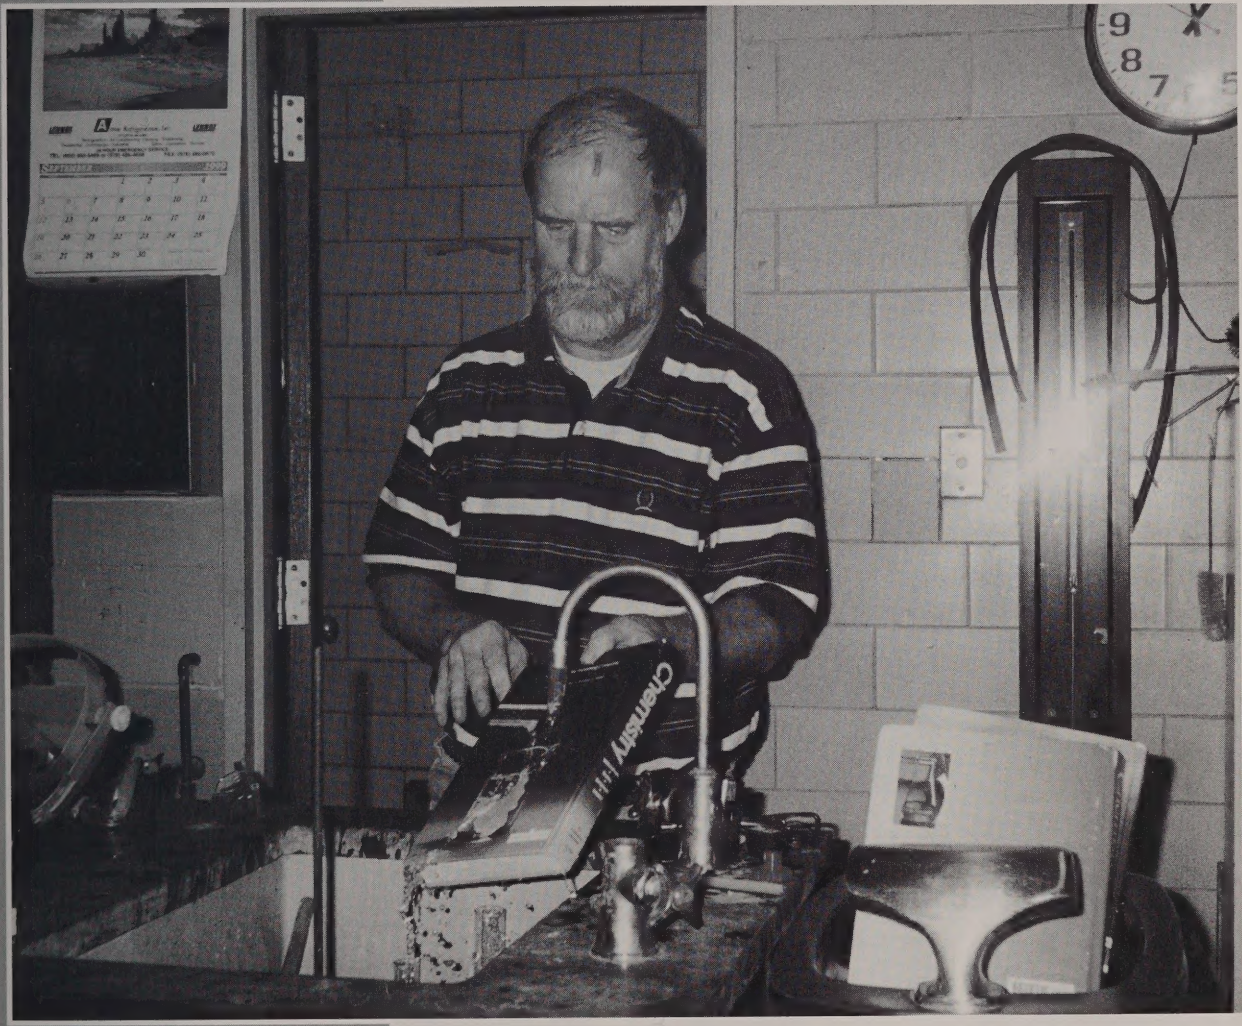
"When I was a child,
I spake as a child,
I understood as a child,
I thought as a child:
but when I became a man,
I put away childish things."
-Bible, I Corinthians 9:11

Ms. Comeau looks like she's struggling to decide who deserves the sticker of the day for the best French dialogue.

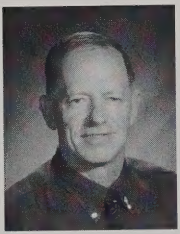
Academics



Now what did Fitz blow up? Mr. Fitzpatrick rinses off a stack of textbooks after he used them to stop the hydrochloric acid from going all over the room.

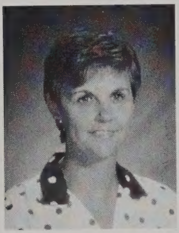
Administration and Office

Mrs. Zoller handles a phone call amidst a busy office.



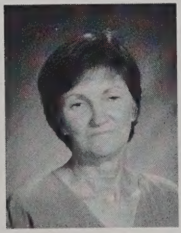
John Corbett

Mrs. Tacconi-Moore and Mrs. Leonard sort out a science dilemma. As principal, Mrs. Tacconi-Moore is always busy working with faculty, scheduling, and improving school operations.



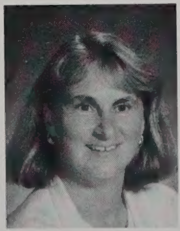
Virginia Cormier

Vincent Franco



Judith Lynn

Margaret Zoller



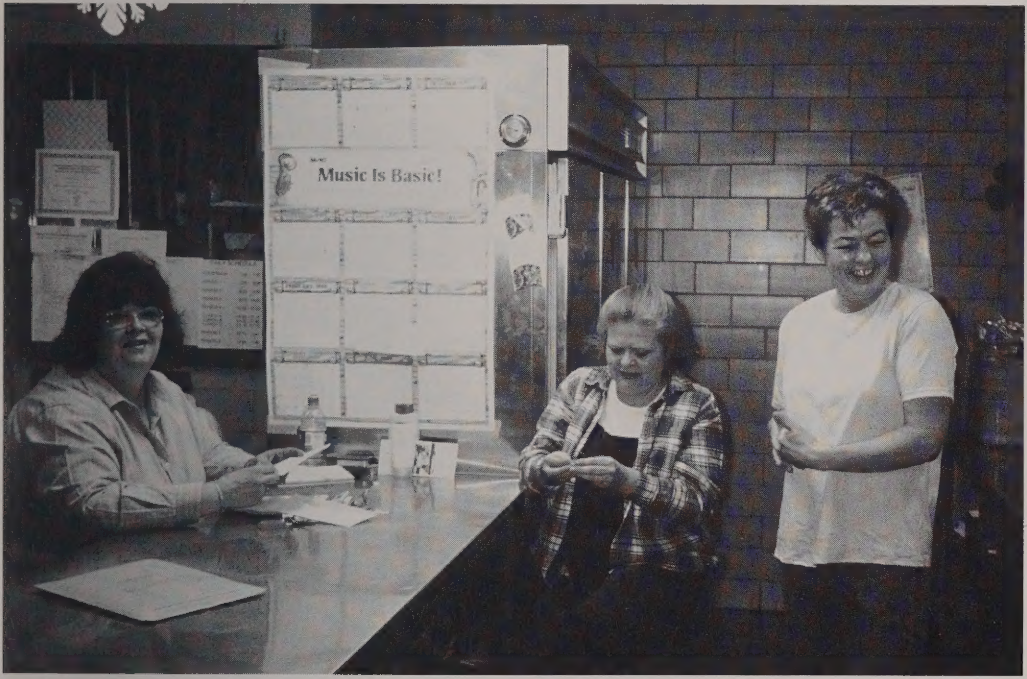
Lorraine Tacconi-Moore

Mrs. Cormier and Mrs. Zoller finally get down to business during a temporary lull in the chaotic office. They are responsible for incoming phone calls, paperwork and, of course, the office copy machine.

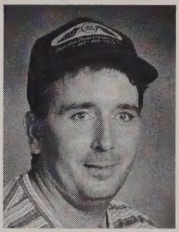
Pizza Day--the reason the lunch line stretches for miles each Friday.

Student Services

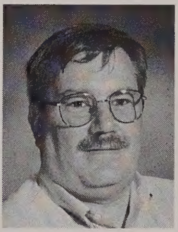
During the early hours of the day, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Hebb, and Mrs. Murphy anxiously await the crowds of hungry students who didn't have time for breakfast at home.



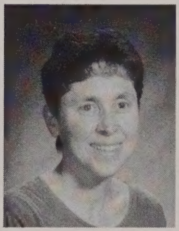
Music Is Basic!



George Brooks

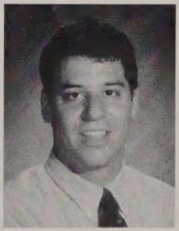


Charles Helling



Harriet Kodis

Mr. Novello prepares for an assembly in the auditorium. In addition to helping students deal with problems, guidance hosts meetings for scheduling and college planning.

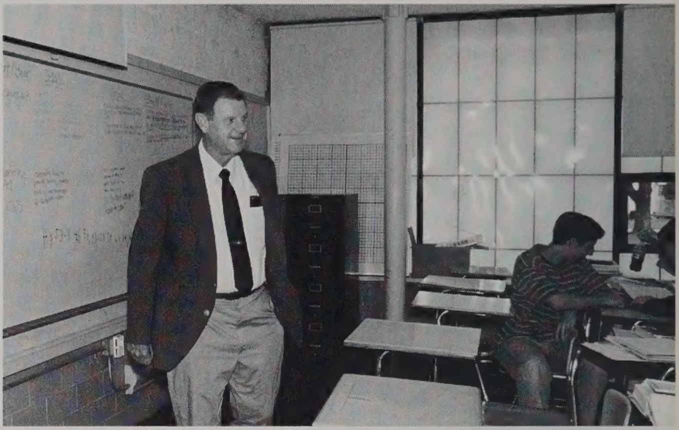


Michael Novello

Mary Soracco

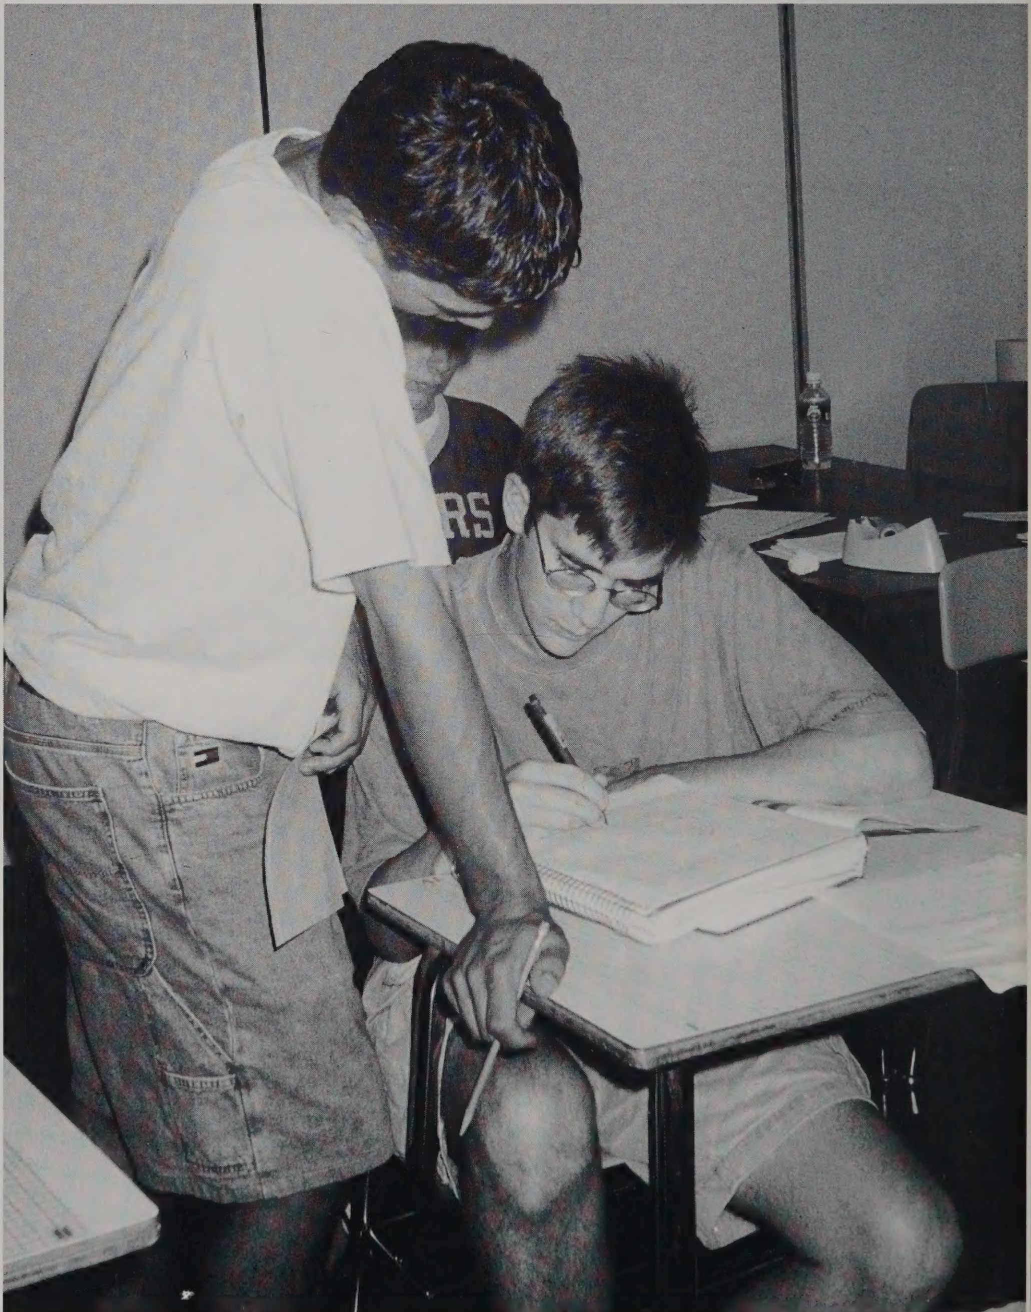
Math

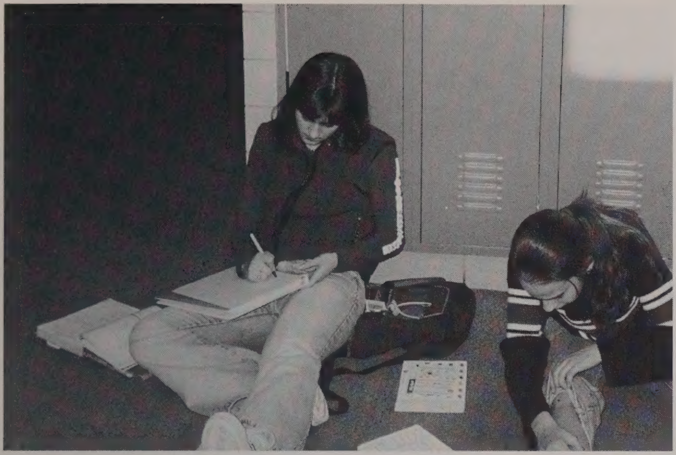
Mr. Conrad, a frequent substitute in the math department, enjoys Littleton students.



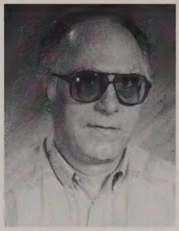
Ms. Lordan frown? Yah, right. Ms. Lordan's algebra and geometry students will vouch that she's all smiles.

Greg Blackburn's trigonometry homework is a group effort. Trigonometry, a challenging junior and senior course taught by Mr. Marr, combines elements of algebra and geometry.



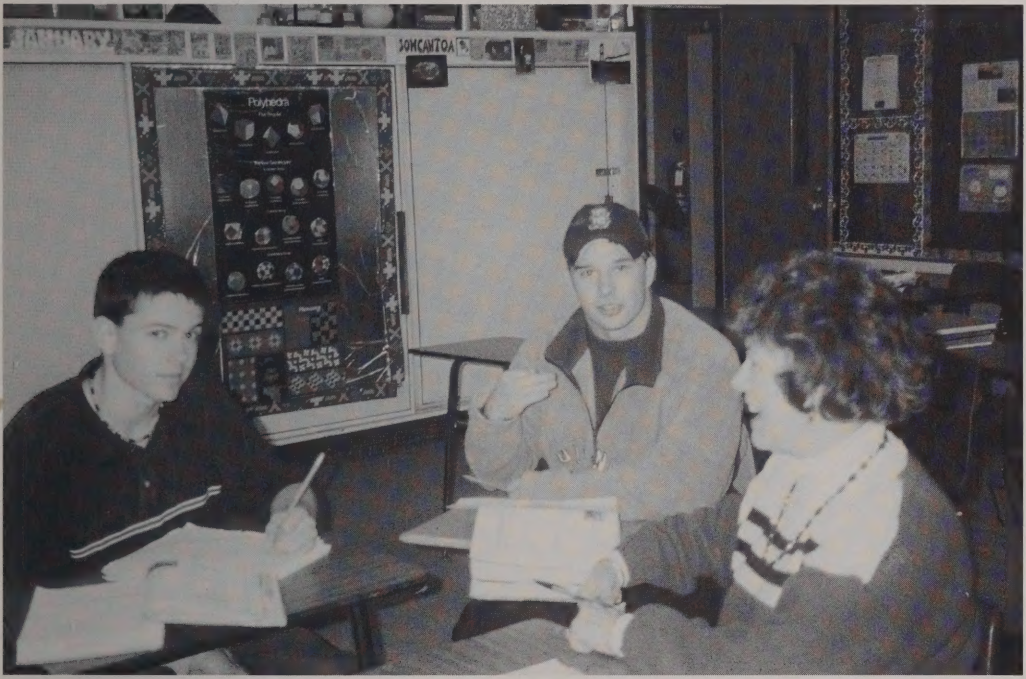


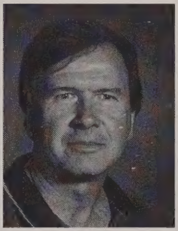
The hall is as good a place as any for Andrea Faherty as she works on algebra for Ms. Lordan's class. The Algebra II curriculm allows ample time for students' favorite math games, such as High Rollers and Algebra Tic Tac Toe.



Lee Kurasowicz

Mary Lou Lordan





Peter Marr

Lynne Pistorino

Ryan Sullivan and Dave McGinley receive extra help from Ms. Lordan. Her colorfully decorated room creates a good learning environment.

Mr. Turner's geometry class diligently works on a quiz. Students enjoy the hands-on-learning in Geometry because they use protractors, compasses, and other tools.

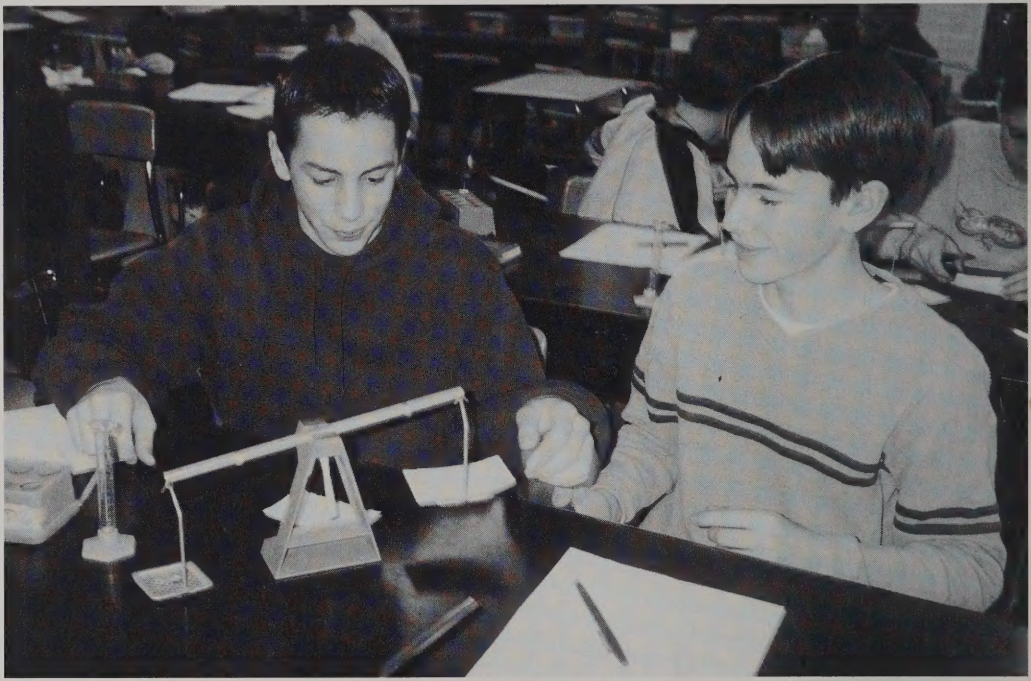
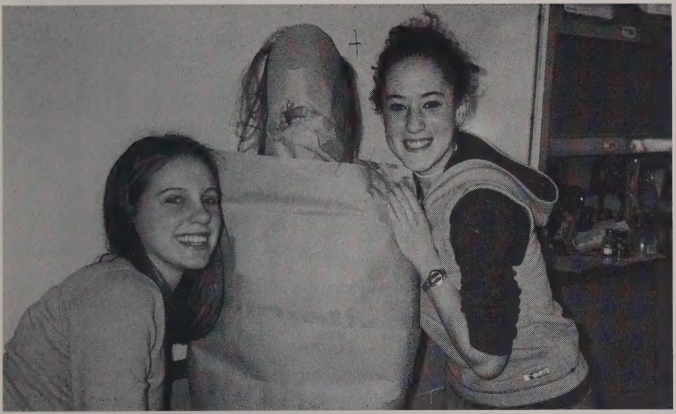
Apparently Jill Hufnagel doesn't trust Fitz's lab skills—she's ready for any explosion! Actually, chemistry students enjoy Fitz's flammable demonstrations.



Matt Coole and Alex Brown study the masses of everyday objects. Eighth-graders enjoy doing many labs in Mr. Pizza's physical science class.

Surprise! Stephanie Schmitt and Wendy Swanson find that their cat had babies. Senior year anatomy is a popular science course, because students like the dissections and some even have plans to be doctors.



Science

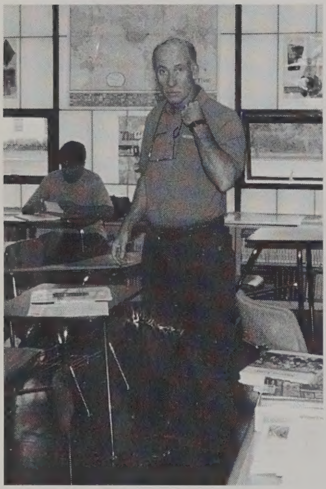
Chemistry students sometimes get so carried away, they get wrapped up in their work.

Ashley Hartz and Bethany Brigham are ready for their Bill Nye the Science Guy auditions. Despite the unbecoming attire, most students prefer long-mod chemistry labs to everyday notetaking.

One must wonder whether this is one of Fitz's chemistry experiments or is he just washing the book.

Social Studies

Steve Cantino and Andrew Loven play dress up during social studies class. Don't they look cute?



Mr. Webster prepares to get tough on the unfortunate photographer who dares interrupt his class: the popular elective, You and the Law.

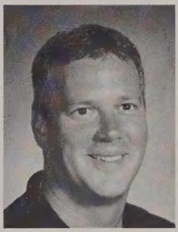
Mrs. Coburn's class concludes that it must be something in the water. Every year Humanities students enjoy themselves at King Richard's Faire, where they get a healthy dose of medieval culture.

Kylie Magee takes a break from walking and watches festivities at King Richard's Faire. Cheering at a joust, attending a medieval play, and seeing a lion tamer's act are among the favorite activities on this trip.

Joan Celebi

Barbara Coburn

Paul Crowley



Paul Harhen

Ms. Morgan checks in on her U.S. History students. Her eighth-graders get a kick out of her new history renditions of their favorite songs.

Despite it not being Chinese New Year, Mrs. Coburn really gets into the festive spirit with her class!

"Graded my final yet Mrs. Holt? You've still got another year before I graduate." Mrs. Holt's Sophmore Humanities classes cater to all tastes by covering European literature, art, and architecture, from the Greco-Roman to the Renaissance period.

Kelly Oslin, Brittany Graham, and Nicole Hatch collaborate on their Hemingway report for freshman English. Students have a hard time understanding why Old Man and the Sea won the Pulitzer Prize.

Nicole Zoto attempts the impossible: Mrs. Webster's critical. Juniors get their first experience with writing a lengthy critical analysis. Note the overflowing trash can.

English

Chuck Triantofillakos seems to be enjoying Zindel's the Pigman.

Andrea Graham catches up on some reading in her freetime. Freshmen meet Shakespeare for the first time when they read Romeo and Juliet.

Looks like Jessica Sewell and Ben Masella got mixed up—Romeo and Juliet is the other way around. Actually, seniors read Macbeth and also experience the joy of writing many papers. Perhaps they'll miss that when they've graduated.

Foreign Language

Ryan McQuilkin and Brian Morrison demonstrate gestures they created for a Spanish assignment using American Sign Language.

During Russian class Jesse Cook responds enthusiastically when asked where heaven is.

Claudette Moran

"Quack! Quack! Quack!" Wait, that's not French. Jan Kiesel catches up on sleep during French class. French students practice French dialogues, write papers, and learn verbs to help them in their European travels.

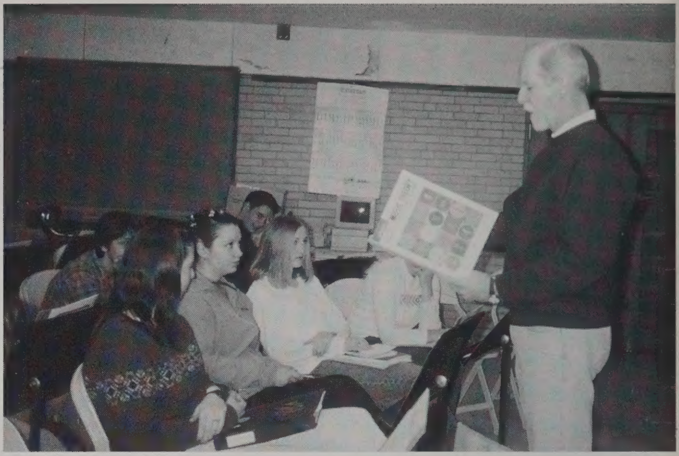
An inside source tells us Mr. Foley is only pretending to teach. Actually Mr. Foley has very little time for himself because of the many musical classes he teaches.



The Art classes took a field trip to the DeCordova Musuem and Sculpture Park to sketch some of the art they found there.

On the high ropes course, students take obstacles one step at a time.

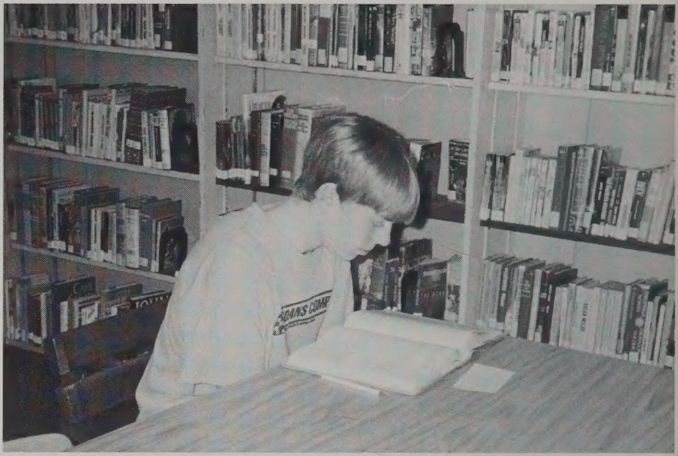
Jill Hufnagel works carefully to paint her sculpture.

Art, Technology Education, Music, and Physical Education

"Smile! You're on candid camera." Nicole Zoto works on one of her many art projects, while Ms. Glass watches and grades her carefully.

"Ta Da!" Lindsey Hufnagel returns from a fun-filled gym class. The students in PE play a variety of sports, from soccer to basketball and softball to gatorball.

Computer and Special Education



Peter Harvey studies very hard in the library.

Dan Cournoyer appears to be a bit confused by his history assignment.

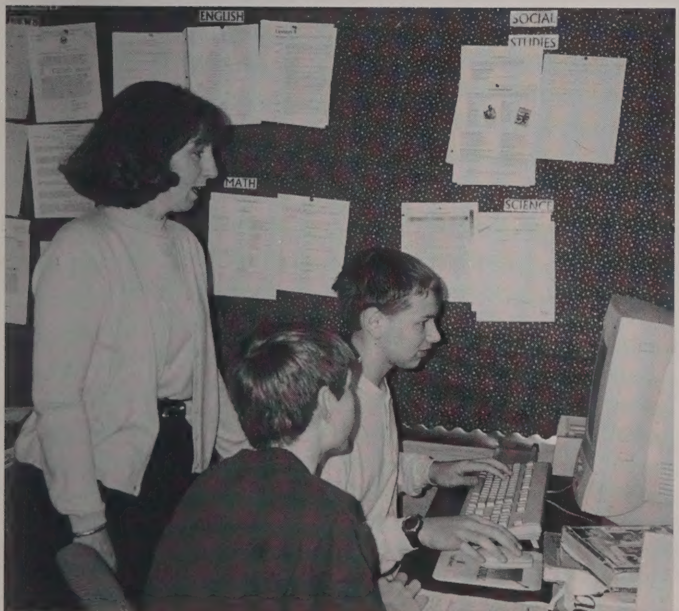
Steve Coleman yawns as he finishes A Separate Peace. Students often read and write in Mrs. Panish's room.

Krista Dolak and Clare Gill decide which picture to scan into the computer for their webpage in Multimedia.



The tech lab is a place for students to type their papers. Here Tobias Friday and classmate take advantage of this while Mrs. Palange helps them use the PowerPoint program.

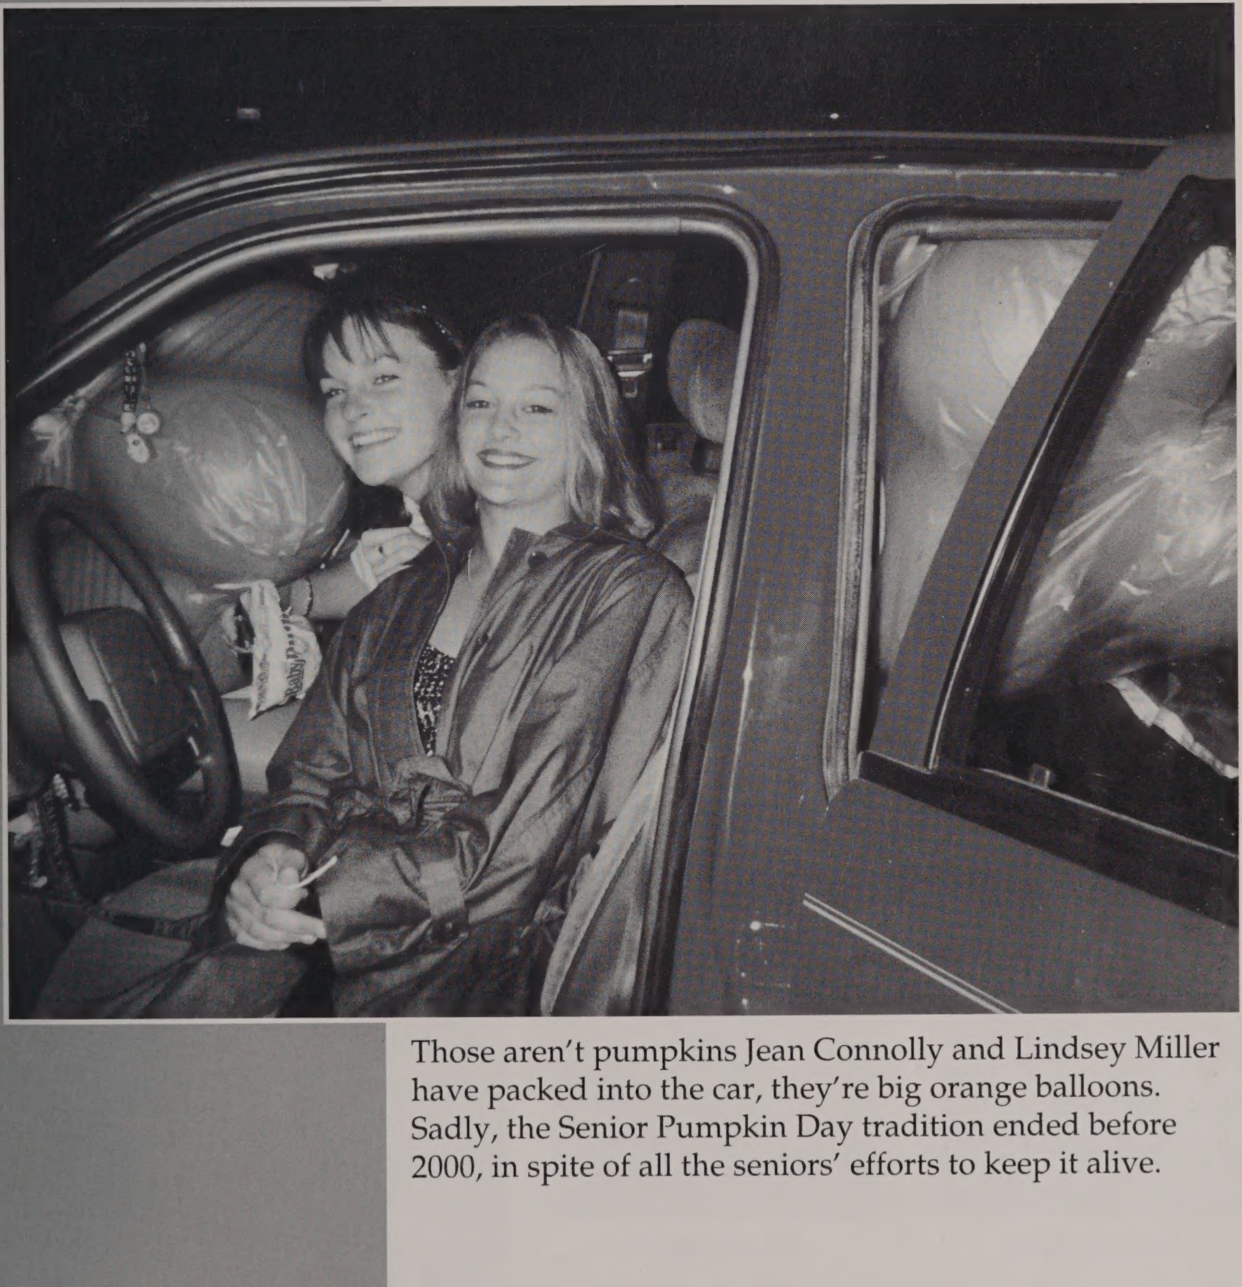
Beyond the Beyond

"There is always one moment in childhood when the door opens and lets the future in."

-Graham Greene,
The Power and the Glory

The Class of 2000 claims their right to the rock in the best way: by wishing luck to the seniors of 1999 . . . something all junior classes should keep in mind!

Seniors



Those aren't pumpkins Jean Connolly and Lindsey Miller have packed into the car, they're big orange balloons. Sadly, the Senior Pumpkin Day tradition ended before 2000, in spite of all the seniors' efforts to keep it alive.

First Light

Lindsey Miller

Congratulations Lindsey! It is hard to believe that our baby girl is all grown up. You have become a beautiful young woman and you will go far in life. We love you and are so very proud of you. Always stay smiling.

All our love forever,
Mom, Dad, Tammy, Nancy,
and "Chester"

John,
Congratulations and Best wishes to you and class of 2000 who get to start their future in the new century.

Mom, Dad, Cindy,

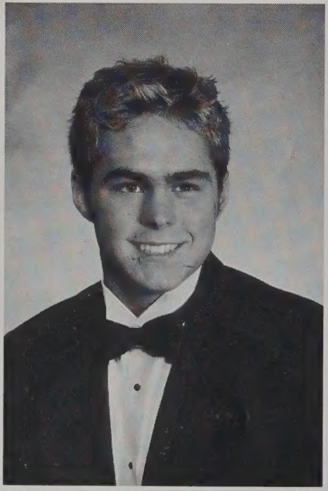
WAKE UP SCHOOL DAY!

These two young girls from Tewksbury invaded Littleton, improving our sports teams and showing us how to have fun. Thank you, Jean Connolly and Lindsey Miller!

Another addtion to LJSH, J. E. Lageaux joins the senior class. He, along with a few other hockey players, came to Massachusetts to play for the Blackhawks, the junior Bruins team.



Senior class officers—Lindsey Miller, Jill Cone, Sarah Long, and Jacky Wayland—have helped to bring our class closer than it has ever been.

It was lots of fun while it lasted but now its done. I have many wonderful memories. I will never forget fitz and his experiments, or MissB and her speeches. We have trusted each other with our lives on the high ropes course, we have played many a game of volleyball and gatorball and we enjoyed them all. Remember when we went to camp bourndale, it seemed so long ago. I remember thinking we would have giant space stations on the moon and mars by the year 2000. I guess I was wrong but it just seemed like such a long time until graduation. I can't believe that high school is nearly over. I will miss all of it (except the homework) coming to school with my friends. I will miss all of these things. At least I have my memories. Thank you all for a great time.

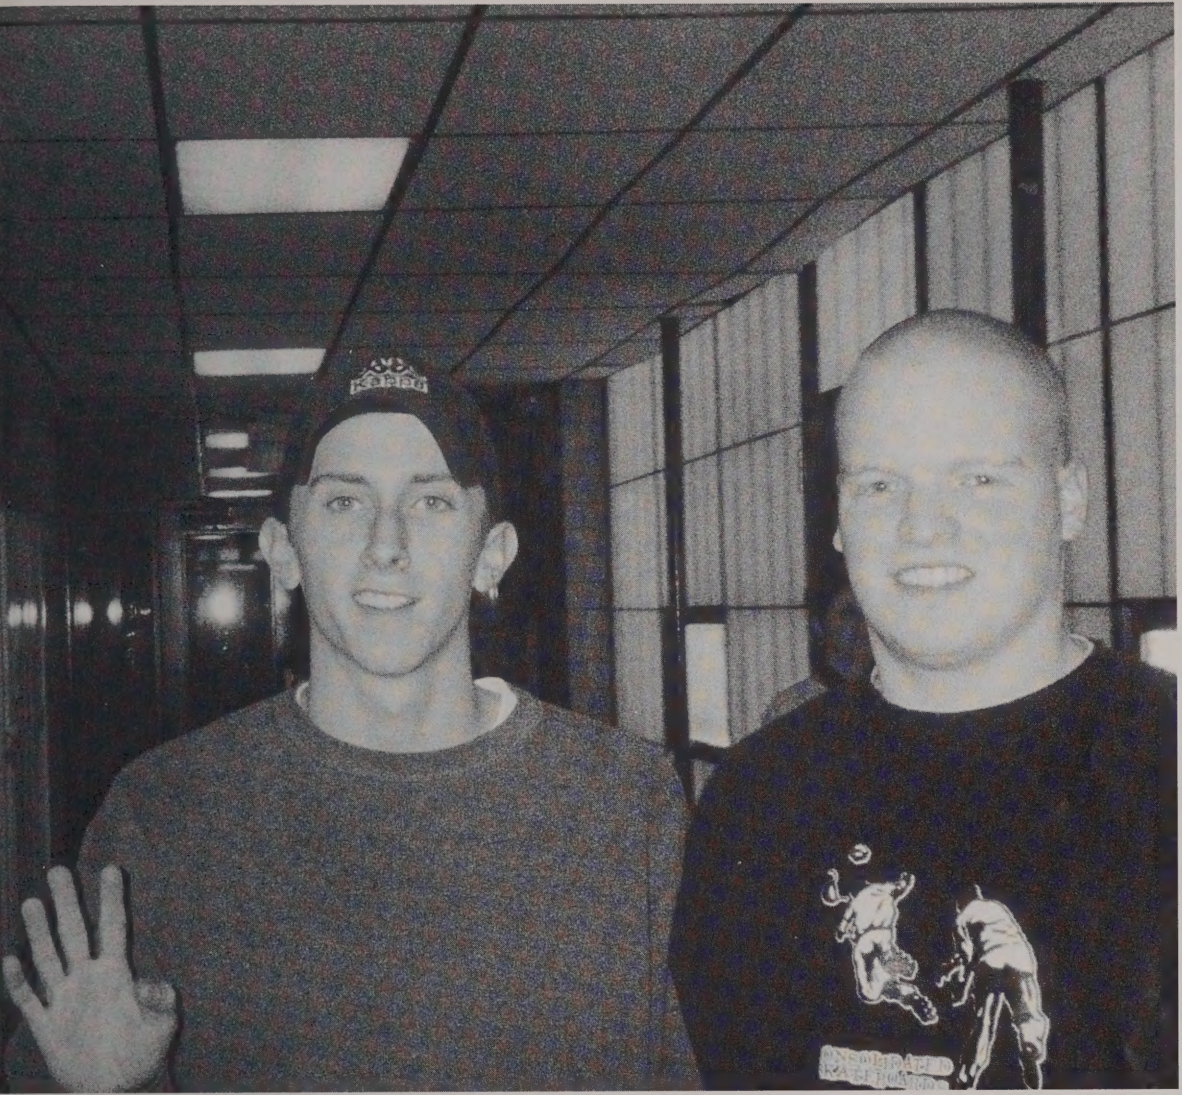
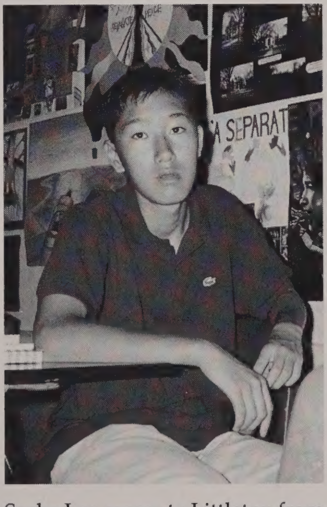
Seniors gather in the library for a class meeting.

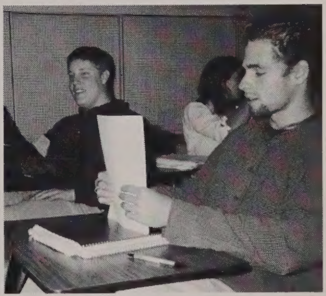


Friends since they were in diapers, Tom Lyons and Ben Johnson continue to ride bikes together, but now they've grown out of their training wheels.



Sasha Lee comes to Littleton from Russia. What a funny guy!

Everyone makes way now that Bryan Cousins and Dave McGinley own the halls.



Chris Ward and Justin Struth sort through the endless pages of instructions to Mr. Spaulding's "horribly exciting" research paper!

Class Wills

I, Jillian Cone, leave Liz Serio many more seasons of field hockey, Zoto to wander Walnut Street alone, and the class of 2001 with remembrance to finish their high school careers without regrets, just experiences. I, Jillian Hufnagel, leave coffee coolattas to JT, NZ, and SL, room 15 to JC, and I leave reign to my little sister Lindsay, the last Hufnagel. I, Lindsey Miller, leave Shannon Scully and Kimmy Crory the legends of our "talks" and I leave knowing I won't come back. I, Jacqueline Wayland, leave Jeannie Allen the Stinkey Car, Bonchie, Sarah, and Nicola the best of luck, and Gumby and Gang many more times to grind with Mingle. I, Alisyn Murray, leave Lindsey Rauker one more year with the ultimate cheerleader and the best of luck in your last year of high school. I, Nicole Gelormini, leave Dave M. all the rosy cheeks for a life time, Mikey D. the next year without his crush, Liz some space, Tanya and Kim "That Song", and leave Rebekah real guys, Tanya Halloween parties, and Mr. Harhen the times after school. I, Ben Johnson, leave Nicole Zoto a nice big tree to hug. I, Eddie Collins, leave Adam Remillard my spot in Detention. I, Stephanie Schmitt, leave the yellow pennies to Steph Cardoos and Kristin Schmidt to fight over and many more years to Danny. I, Jessica Sewell, leave one more year to Chris and my girls. I, Michaela Like, leave feeling sorry for everyone still here. I, Nicole Weymouth, leave Dougie Weymouth, Mikey Kanniard, and Mike Langelier a few more years without me. I, Christopher Terella, leave my parents an empty house, and Adam S. a chance to get a ride with someone else. I, Jonathan Blackburn, leave the streets of Littleton a safer place to walk now that I'm not driving. I, Matt Brigham, leave Mrs. Tacconi-Moore a big pile of pumpkins and another year of school to my sister Beth. I, Stephanie Rizzitano, leave the legend of BU to Christine Kalukiewicz and the cheese on the roof to Heidi Cozzens. I, Andy Sherman, leave knowing that next year there will be a Pumpkin Day, and I leave Nicole LaVigne all the luck in the world. I, Wendy Swanson, leave happier than when I came. I, Ben Masella, leave relieved that it's finally over. I, Emily Thibeault, Angela my seat on the bench, Andy, Libby, and Kim the best of luck and the field hockey team the ability to beat Quabog next year! I, Zach Brown, leave the Sable to Alex. I, Camille Claire McNeill, leave Bonch "The cat," Sarah the jibbi, Jaymee an attitude, Nichola a p-funk, good luck and love to a Heidi-Ho and all you underclassmen. I, Ben Sladowsky, leave the messiest locker in the school. I, Elizabeth Marie Hartwell, leave Bonch a supply of flowered trash cans, Heidi, Sarah, and Jayme Lee all my love and best wishes for times to come. I, John Eaton, leave without tripping Ben Masella. I, Michelle DiMase, leave peace and quiet for the faculty, and "Carrot Forks" and a plate of brownies for Mr. Legault for rock climbing trips. I, Tom Lyons, leave the soccer team the best of luck. I, James Hartwell, leave nothing. I, Amanda Kavigian, leave in someone else's car and Chuck the knowledge to pass the 9th grade. I, Neal Holland, leave the legacy of FM to my disciples, and Amanda two more years in this fantastic place we call school. I, Lori Johnson, leave Karyn the best of luck in the next six years. I, Sharla Redgate, leave Crystal Bell five more years, Julia no more calls down to Mr. Corbett, and Mr. Harhen no Mr. Murty. I, Robert Indars, leave Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Webster, and Mr. Cronholm my heartfelt gratitude and success to Devin and Erika. I, Brandis Kelly, leave my sister Kristin six more years of fun. I, Rebekah Dodson, leave Mr. Harhen a coffee, Emily some facts, and Kim and Tanya "The Morning Song." I, Sarah Long, leave Nicole Zoto and Angela Ryan a great senior year and luck to the field hockey team. I, Brendan Bennett, leave Adam Sarvela, Ryan McQuilken, Pat Malone, and Ben Pierce another year of soccer and to Todd Graham I leave him with no clutch. I, Justin Cantino, leave my teachers a parking space up for grabs. I, Jean Connolly, leave the Bball team "The Buddha Statue," Ben and Pat some candy, and softball and Bball all the luck. I, Chris Ward, leave behind the legend of BIG DAWG and my brother with three more years. I, Justin Struth, leave 100 pumpkins on the roof for the town workers in the middle of the night and C a peaceful life after he retires.

The Children's Hour

Alicia Venegas and Kaitlyn Carroll squint in the warm September sun at King Richard's Faire where they've adorned themselves with those beautiful tattoos.

Underclassmen

Hey, boys! Public displays of affection are not allowed at LJSHS. It looks like Mrs. Webster is about to put a stop to Todd Graham and Mike Langelier's embrace.

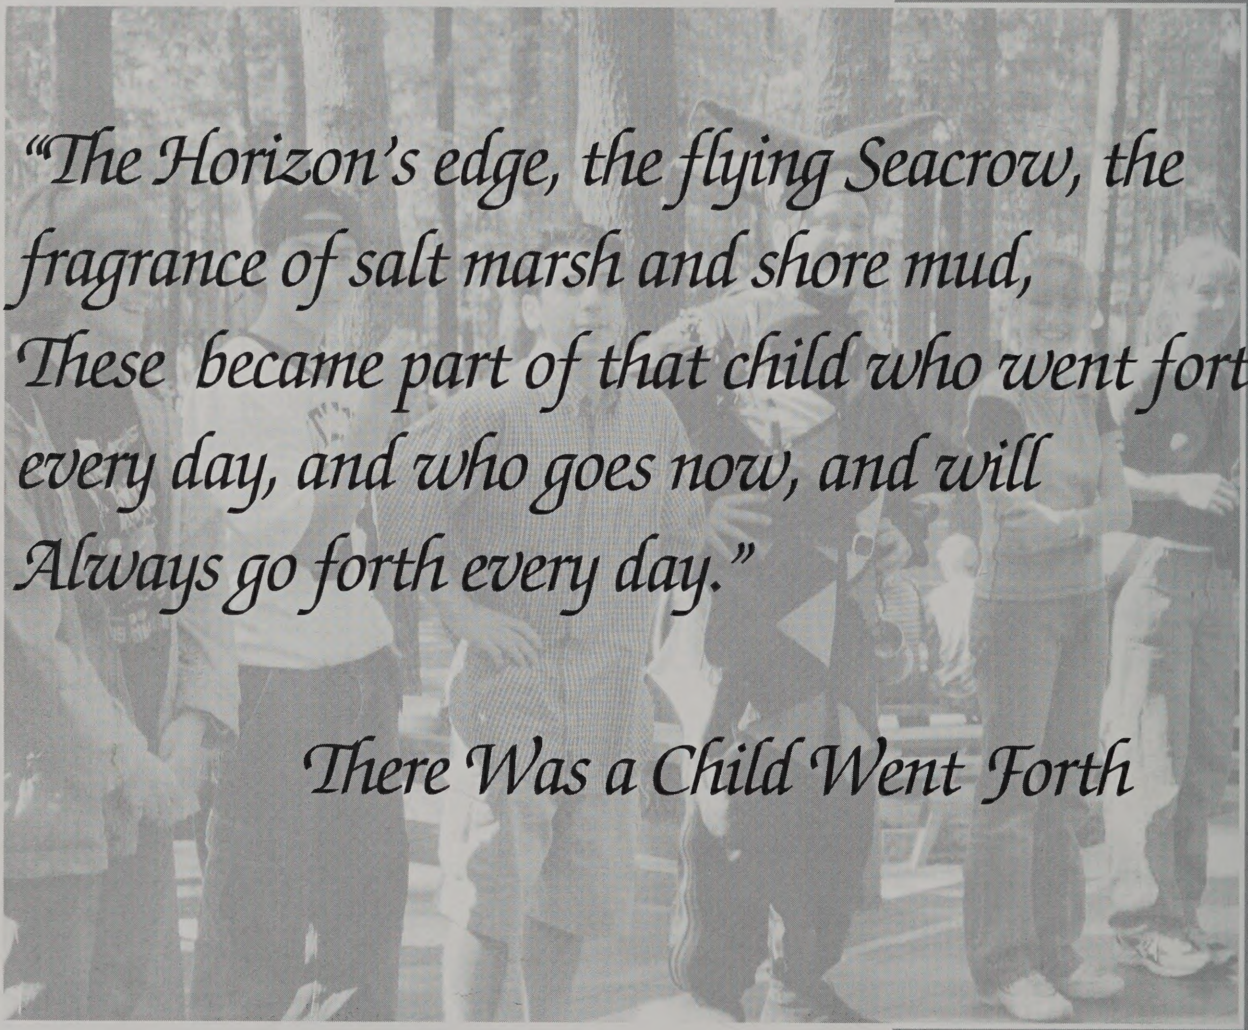
Pushing the Limit



"The Horizon's edge, the flying Seacrow, the fragrance of salt marsh and shore mud,
These became part of that child who went forth every day, and who goes now, and will Always go forth every day."

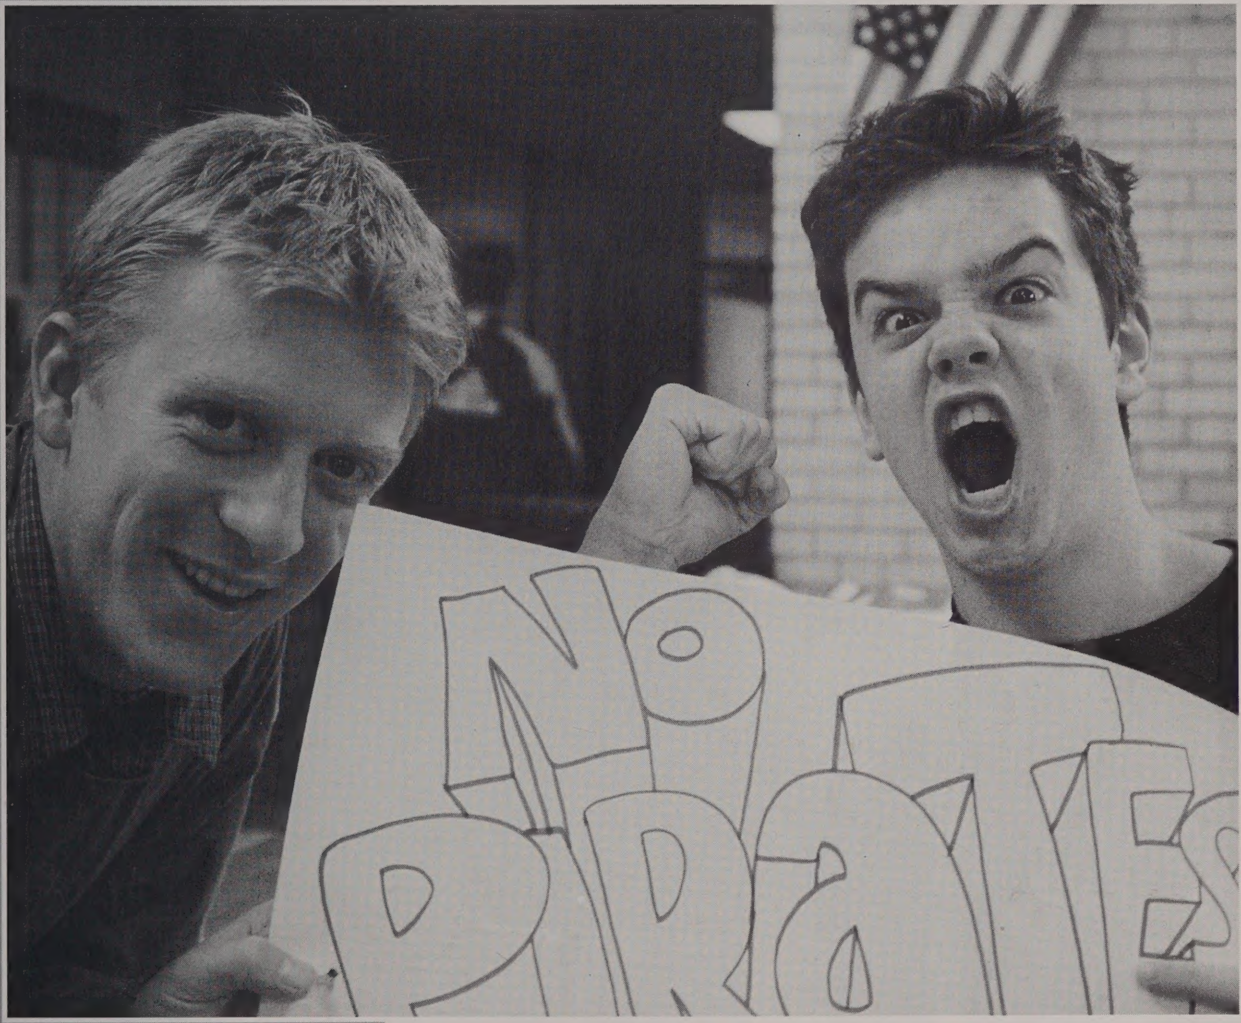
There Was a Child Went Forth

Steve Gehly, Nick Koptiew, Clare Gill, and a clown perform for the large audience at King Richard's Faire in Carver, Massachusetts. This annual field trip highlights the fall curriculum in the sophomore Humanities course.

Student Life



Mal Haupert and Jim Clark make a sign for "spirate" week with the odd phrase "No Pirates" which strangely appears all over the school. Settle down, Jim.

Prom King—Chris Terella, Queen—Wendy Swanson, Court—Michelle DiMase, Jean Connolly, Lindsey Miller, Jacky Wayland

Upperclassmen watch the current seniors attempt to do "The Chicken Dance" while the hotel staff picks the king, queen, and court of the evening. The DJ had some technical problems and put on "The Electric Slide" instead.

Prom 1999 "Fade Into You"

Many prom-goers gather at Faye Park to let their parents assail them with cameras before heading off on their own.

After escaping from the crowded dance floor, John Eaton and Emily Thibeault enjoy their Italian meal from the buffet.

Wendy and Chris dance after being chosen King and Queen.

Chaperones—Mrs. Holt, Mr. Harhen, Mrs. Coburn, and Ms. Marsh—bond while admiring all the beautiful students.

Jessica Theriault as Queen Aggravain
Dexter Preston as King Sextimus
John Ribeiro as the Jester
Karen Panek as the Minstrel

Trapped! Krista Dolak sings for her freedom from playing this bright red and yellow caged bird.

Once Upon A Mattress

Despite the bruises the pea has caused her, Princess Emma Bruns still sings her heart out to the handsome Prince Greg Blackburn.

Frank Tringale—a knight in shining armor—growls at the photographer for coming too close to the princess.

Mike Pelland and Angela Ryan's harmonic duet earns them a thundering applause.

The talented and beautiful dancers of the musical Once Upon a Mattress, featuring Nicole Zoto and Andrea Graham, perform a beautiful ballet scene of the action that has taken place.

Foreign Language Night

Six Cent Special performs "La Bamba" in their crazy sombreros, setting the audience on fire.

Sarah Stevens and Kerry Jackson serve up some impressive Italian cuisine from their café "Il Brodetto di Papi."

Spirit Week was a huge success!
LHS students proved that we do have spirit.

Farmer Ben Swartz takes a break from study hall to get his picture taken.

Spirit Week

Mike DeBlasio, Meghan McLellan, Jess Theriault and other sophomores get ready for the shout off, one of the many competitions held during the pep rally!

Yum Yum! The pie-eating contest is about to begin!

Aloha! Juniors go Hawaiian. More students in the class of 2000 came to decorate the hall in 1999 than in previous years.

Sophomore guys bare their skin to show that they have the most spirit.

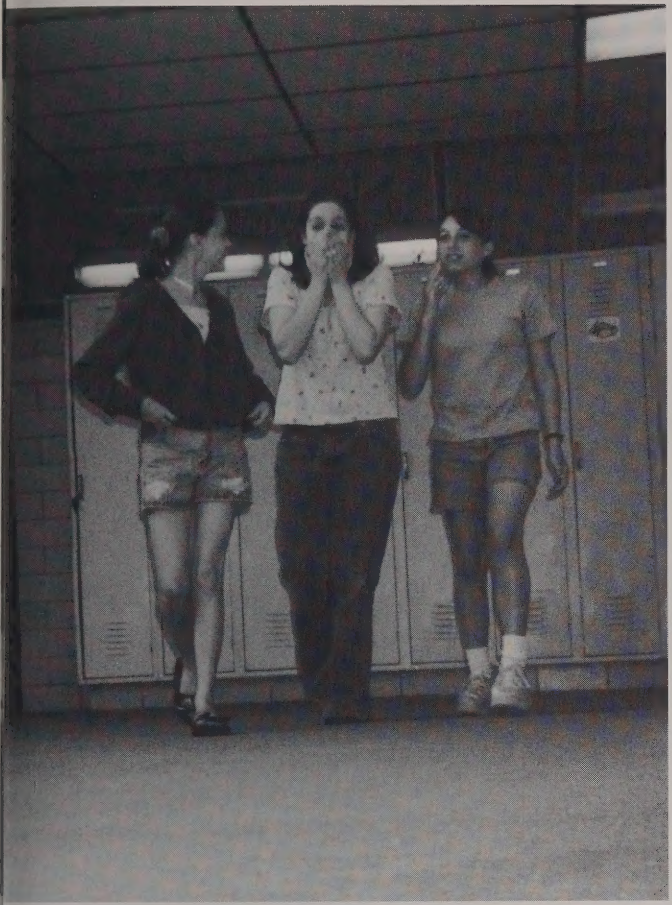
Germany and Austria

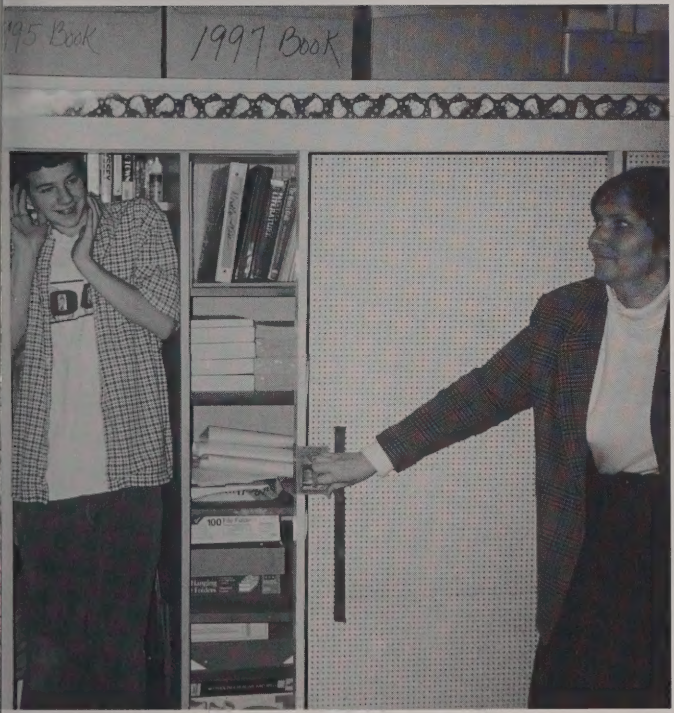
Our European travelers pose at the mini-castle of Mad King Ludwig.

Lindsey Miller catches a nap as the train glides through the Alps.

Sarah Long and Evonne Krawiec pick up a handsome German waiter. Impressive, girls.

The travelers capture this gorgeous view of the Neuschwanstien Castle, another prize of Mad King Ludwig.





Not even with his clever hiding place, can Steve Cantino hide from Mrs. Chaple's quiz on Romeo and Juliet.

Jessica Ippilito is surprised to see the camera while walking down the halls with Tara Mohhamed and Heather Franke. Below, Camille McNeill catches up on her math homework during study.

Ryan McQuilken, Bill Naylor, and J.D. Killoran enjoy the many wonders of string.

Christopher Terella, Taylor Wheaton, Adam Sarvela, Lindsey Rauker, Jill Hufnagel and Jesse Cook strike a pose.

Comments anyone?

"I liked it better in the cafeteria, but all in all it was a fun time to spend with friends."

"Decorations were okay but could have been better."

"Everyone looked very nice"

"The DJ had good lights but shouldn't have stopped the music for games."

"Big social event!"

"The balloons were awesome."

"I was sad to see not many juniors and seniors there."

"Everything sparkled!"

Jeff Colombo, Dan Irwin, Chris Pickering, and Ryan Goguen take in the beautifully decorated gym and their dancing classmates.

Winter Cotillion 1999

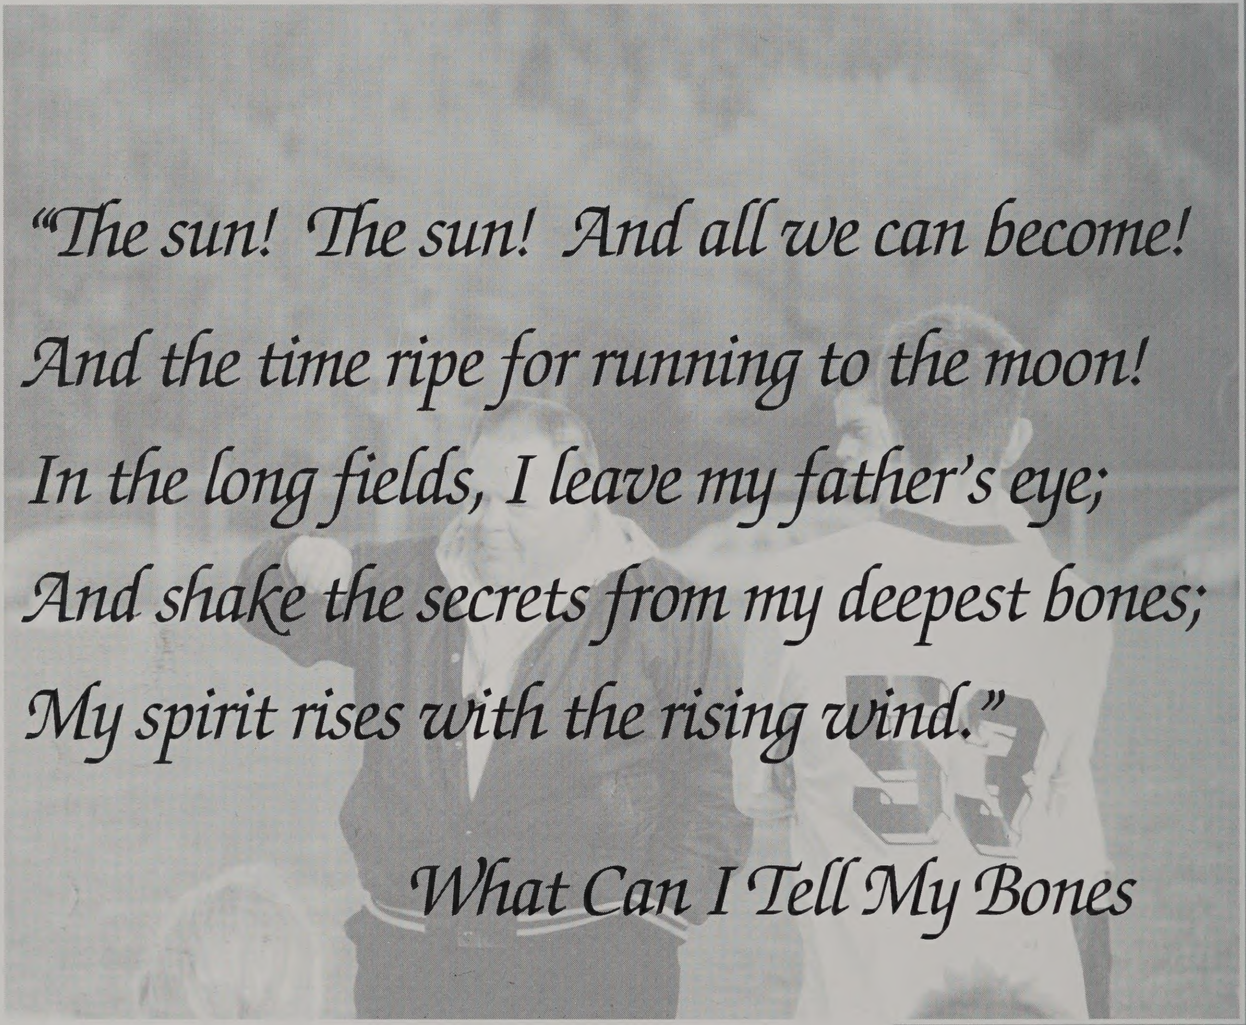
Dancing the night away! Alison Shimmel, Alex Vanegas, and Jennifer Jones demonstrate their dancing ability.

Stephanie Sheridan, Stephanie Cardoos and Kylie Magee seem to be enjoying the evening.

Ben Swartz dances with Amanda Bruce, a graduate of LJSH, at the Senior-sponsored January 11 Cotillion.

Charlie's Angels: Kristine Benere, Alex Vanegas, Pearl Gaedtke, and Chrissy Mathias.

Racing the Days



"The sun! The sun! And all we can become!
And the time ripe for running to the moon!
In the long fields, I leave my father's eye;
And shake the secrets from my deepest bones;
My spirit rises with the rising wind."

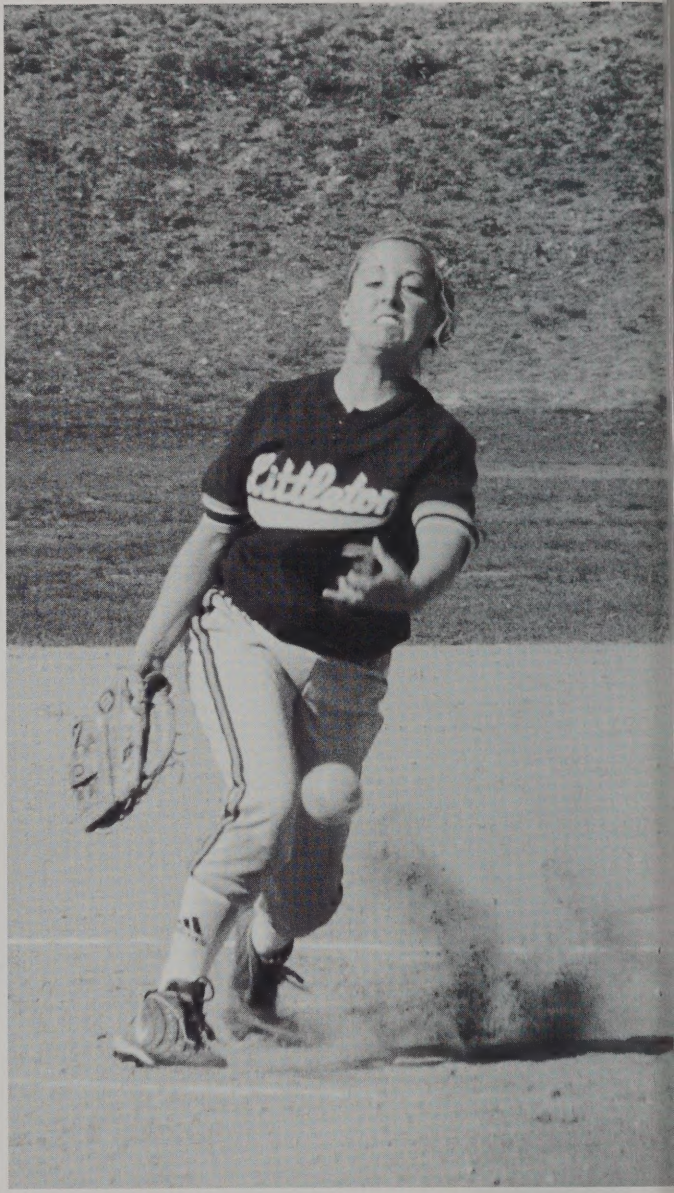
What Can I Tell My Bones

Eric Turner works on new strategies with the boys' soccer team during his final season as the Littleton Jr. Sr. High School Boys' Varsity Soccer Coach.

Sports

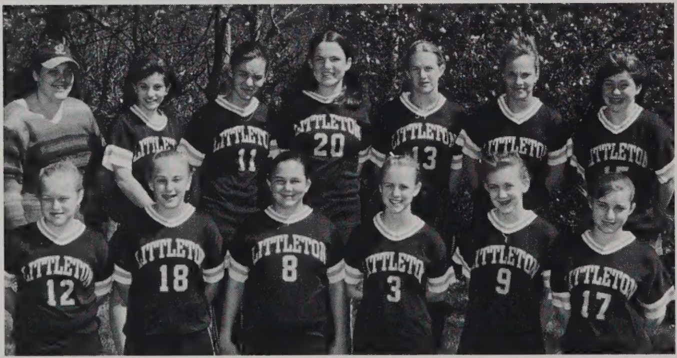
Do you think Jean Connolly and Christine Kalukiewicz are so happy because they just won another softball game or because they know they're about to win?

This is the real deal Camille McNeill. Her pitching record for the '99 season was 18 strikeouts with a no hitter.



Ashley Hartz stoops to catch a grounder in a Tigers softball game last spring. This talented second baseman helped the team to maintain their outstanding season record.

Christine Kalukiewicz gets ready to nail the ball deep into the outfield. Her incredible offensive and defensive skills made her a major asset to the team.



The Junior High team from L-R:
Back: Coach Callie Quinn, B. Taylor, J. Nader, K. Hillman, K. Benere, A. Sarvela, A. Doody Front: K. Hardy, N. LaVigne, E. Mizzoni, A. Stewart, K. Axtman, A. Hardy.

The team gathers around the mound for a cheer before the start of each inning. Lots of good luck customs kept team spirits high as the Tigers completed an incredible winning season.

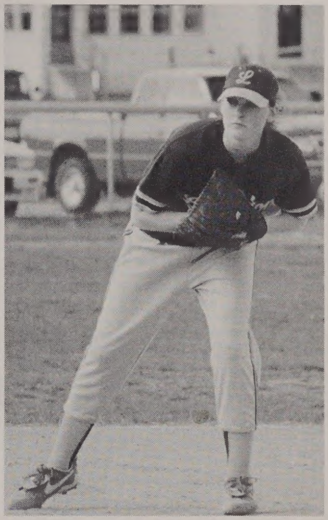
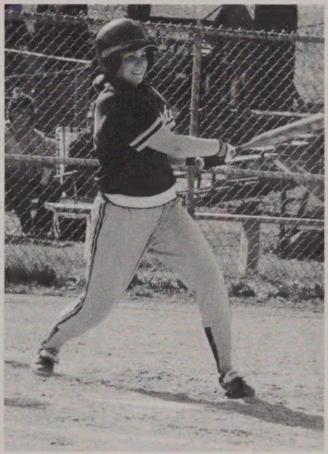
Front (L-R) K. Jackson, K. Crory, J. Cooney, O. Robinson, M. Davis

Shortstop Jean Connolly anticipates the ball direction and prepares to make the play. Her solid playing skills helped the Tigers to continue on their incredible winning streak and end their season with a record of seventeen wins and only five losses.





"I actually hit it!" Beef (Bethany Brigham) is amazed as her bat makes contact with the ball. As a sophomore, Beth played hard and contributed her enthusiasm to the team.

Senior, Lindsay Miller strides toward the ball as she prepares to make contact. Lynnie is an all around good softball player who can fill in at any position.

Jesse Cook, number nine, looks for the ball. Although the team had a 2-20 record, each player put enormous amounts of effort into every game.

Dennis Gibbons, a successful Varsity pitcher and hitter this season, wears a look of determination as he prepares to strike out another opponent.

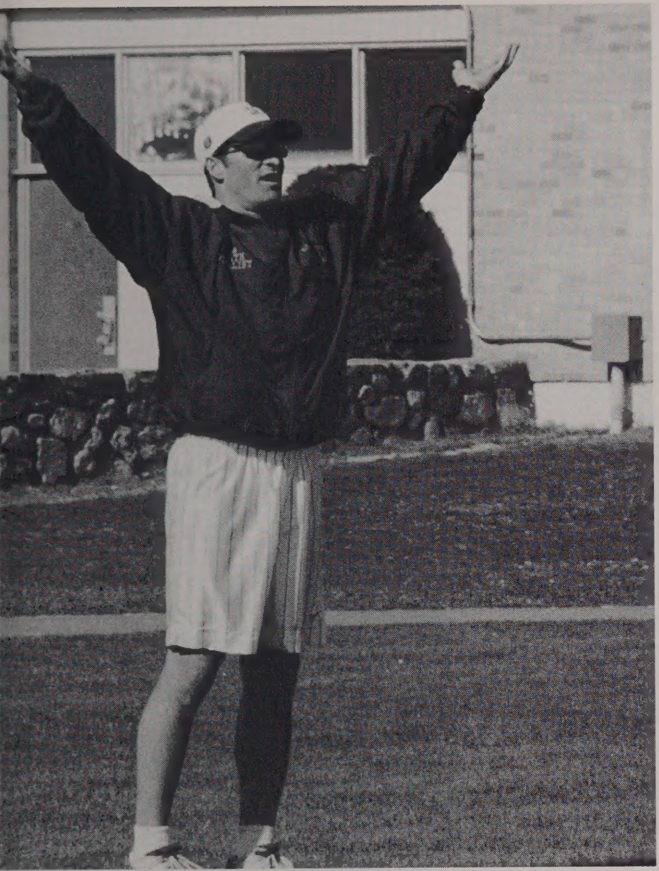
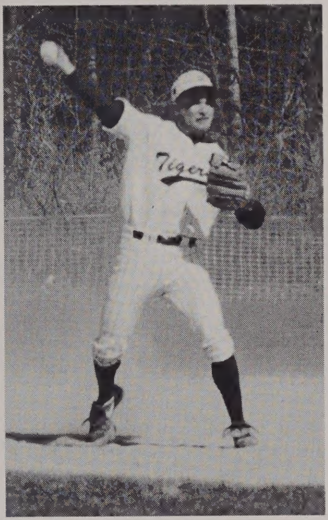
Brian Mizzoni, one of the many young Varsity players, contributed great skills to the team. His unreserved enthusiasm kept spirits high among his teammates.

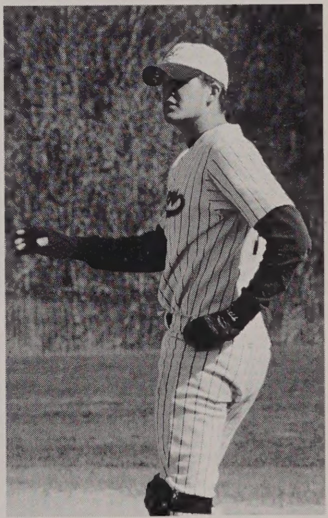


Mr. Legault throws his arms up in frustration as the umpire makes a questionable call. With the motto "Hard Work Breeds Success," his dedication to the team is obvious.

Dave McGinley catapults the ball to first base to make the out. The Varsity baseball experience that he has acquired over the years will give him the necessary skill to lead the team to future victories.



Steve O'Clair bends over to scoop up the grounder. He was a committed member of the team, a quality that will be useful in his years to come as a veteran Varsity player.

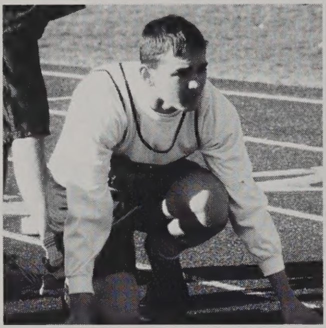


Pete Magner walks to his position. He played pitcher as well as catcher, and also provided great batting skills.

Mike DeBlasio prepares for the pitch. He was a sophomore Varsity player who was an important member of the team.

Christine Carter makes a flying leap through the air, adding to her excellent season. Christine was a Lowell Sun All Stars competitor.

Tom Feehan squats , awaiting the official's gun, which signals the start of the 100 meter dash.



Mike Oslin, Ryan Gilbert and Emily Hronik round the corner, determined to win.

It's the wind-up, it's the shuffle, and it's twenty-three feet. Krista Dolak throws the shotput at a cold, windy meet in Ayer.

Mal Haupert is looking confused as he lands a jump far into the sand. Mal was a Class "D" Mid-Wach All-Star.

Alex Venegas and Ericka Nelson take off in the 100 yard dash, with victory in mind. Alex was one of the girl All-Stars in the Class "D" Mid Wach League. Ericka had a good first season.

Ryan Gilbert wears a look of determination as he nears the end of the long distance run.

Jill Hufnagel seems confident as she prepares to throw the javelin. Jill also participated in the hurdles and the throwing of the shotput.

After launching herself through the air, Teresa Soracco prepares for a soft landing on the high jump mats. Teresa was one of the few brave girls who did the high jump last year.

Doubles player Jessica Kalafatis leaps into the air to return a serve. She hopes to continue playing doubles next year.

Seniors Amy Worden, Shannon McCumber, and Alaina Ford pose for a shot. Unfortunately, the team lost these valuable players for the 2000 season.

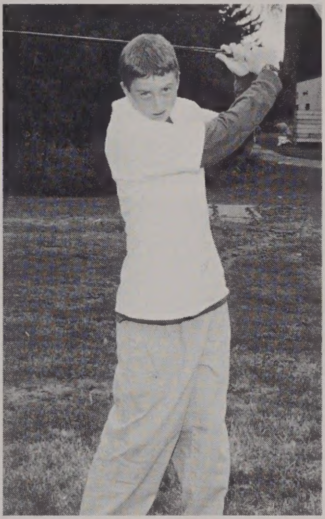
Jen Worden, a singles player, returns the ball to beat her opponent. Her record was a stunning 16-1.

Chris Wenz's super swing contributed to LHS's many wins this year. The golf team is fortunate that they won't lose this sophomore for a couple more years.

Aren't you supposed to be looking at the ball, Brian? Junior Brian Morrison takes a few practice swings before the big match.



Ben Swartz smiles as he prepares to hit the ball. The team finished 4-8 this year.

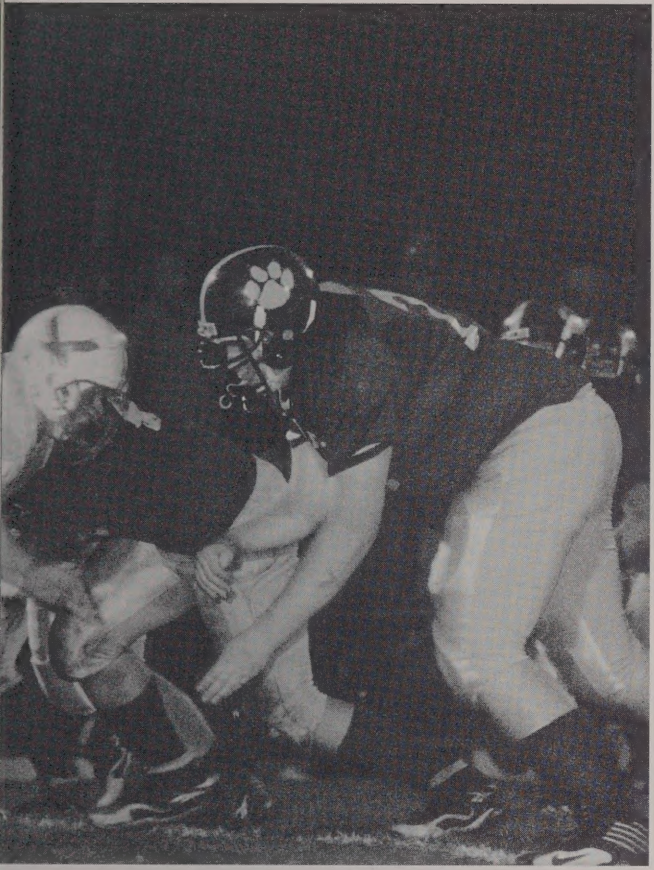
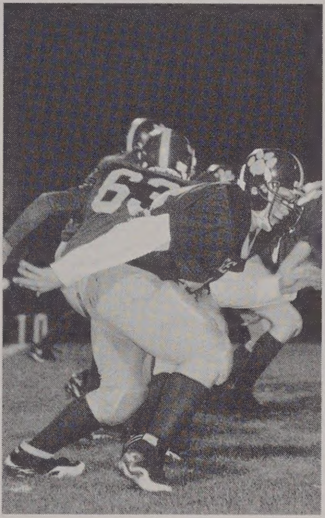
Tom Feehan prepares to throw a pass to one of his receivers. Tom was a big asset to the team, and a great leader. He scored touchdowns by throwing passes, as well as running them in.



Center Chris Ward prepares to block this Hudson player. In his first year on the team, he played an important role for the Tigers.

Junior Bill Naylor takes off in a sprint as the Tigers kick-off. Bill always played hard at tight end and defensive tackle. He made several catches, one of which was in the Thanksgiving Day victory.



Senior Captain Dave McGinley slows down as the play stops. Dave played running back, and in his second year on the Littleton team he made numerous rushing attempts for over 1,000 yards.

Captain Tom Feehan watches his pass soar through the air. As quarterback, Tom was able to create lots of amazing plays, score many touchdowns, run the ball, and even punt the ball this season.

Tom Feehan hands-off to Scott Faherty during warm-up before the game. The Tigers did much better this season defeating three of their opponents.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! Meghan Scully and Maryanne Cleary cheer along with the rest of the squad at one of Littleton's Friday night football games.

The basketball cheerleaders pose for a quick shot. This year, the cheerleaders impressed fans with entertaining half-time dances and stunts.

Achieving Greatness

Some of the clubs at LHS are service oriented. Their goal is to help people, to boost school spirit, and to put our memories into a book that can be treasured forever.

Junior members of the Honor Society, Rachel Hatch, Liz Finch, and Melissa McCarthy ham it up for the camera. NHS sponsored a family during the holidays.

Yearbook Literary Yearbook Business

Yearbook Business Staff

The Business Staff of the yearbook includes Adrienne Haduch, Kim Hall, and Kerry Jackson. The staff works on the financial and public relations aspects of the yearbook. Their activities include mailing home parent messages and selling ads after the seniors have finished.

Yearbook Photographers

The photographers of the 2000 yearbook are Emma Bruns and Jill Hufnagel. They spent many long hours taking pictures of everything and everyone.

Showing Talent

The artistic talents of the students at Littleton Jr. Sr. High are growing every year. We have singers to instrumentalists; artists to athletes. Go get 'em guys!

Helping Hands

The members of these clubs are always willing to lend a hand. Whether it be to prevent drinking and driving or sorting through other students' problems.

Practical joke wars!!!! Isn't is a shame that kids do this to each other?!?!? Maybe a Peer Mediator could help poor J.D. Killoran.

Students Against Destructive Desicions, SADD, hold assemblies, like the Police Day around prom time, to remind kids to be safe. Sarah Stevens must have wanted to jump right in and get her feet wet.

The Youngins

Junior high students have their own clubs so their activities can be age appropriate.

"La la la..." Frank Tringale warms up his vocal cords while Billy Brule simply smiles for the camera.

"Ta-da!" Nancy Brule, Kristen Rooney, Frank Tringale, Caitlin Monat, Kim Scantlebury, Billy Brule, Ryan Ersland, Alison Govoni, Nicole Zoto, and Chris Wenz think that their version of "Livin' La Vida Loca" is better than Ricky Martin's.

Math Counts

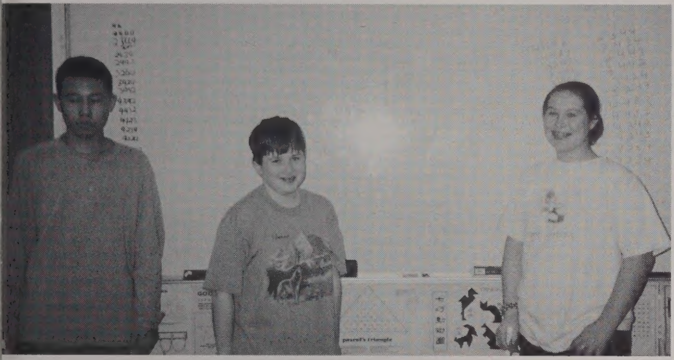
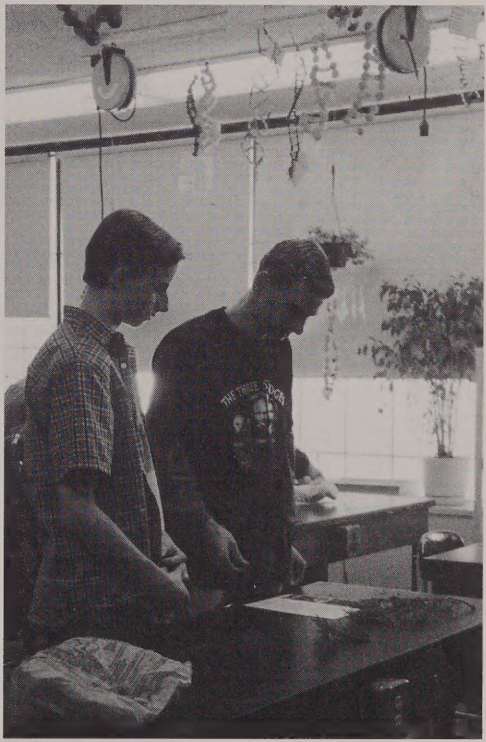
From Left: C. Chan, M. Morin, L. Irwin. Math Counts meets every Monday with Ms. Lordan. Only a select few go on to the competition at the end of the year.



Science Olympiad

Science Olympiad

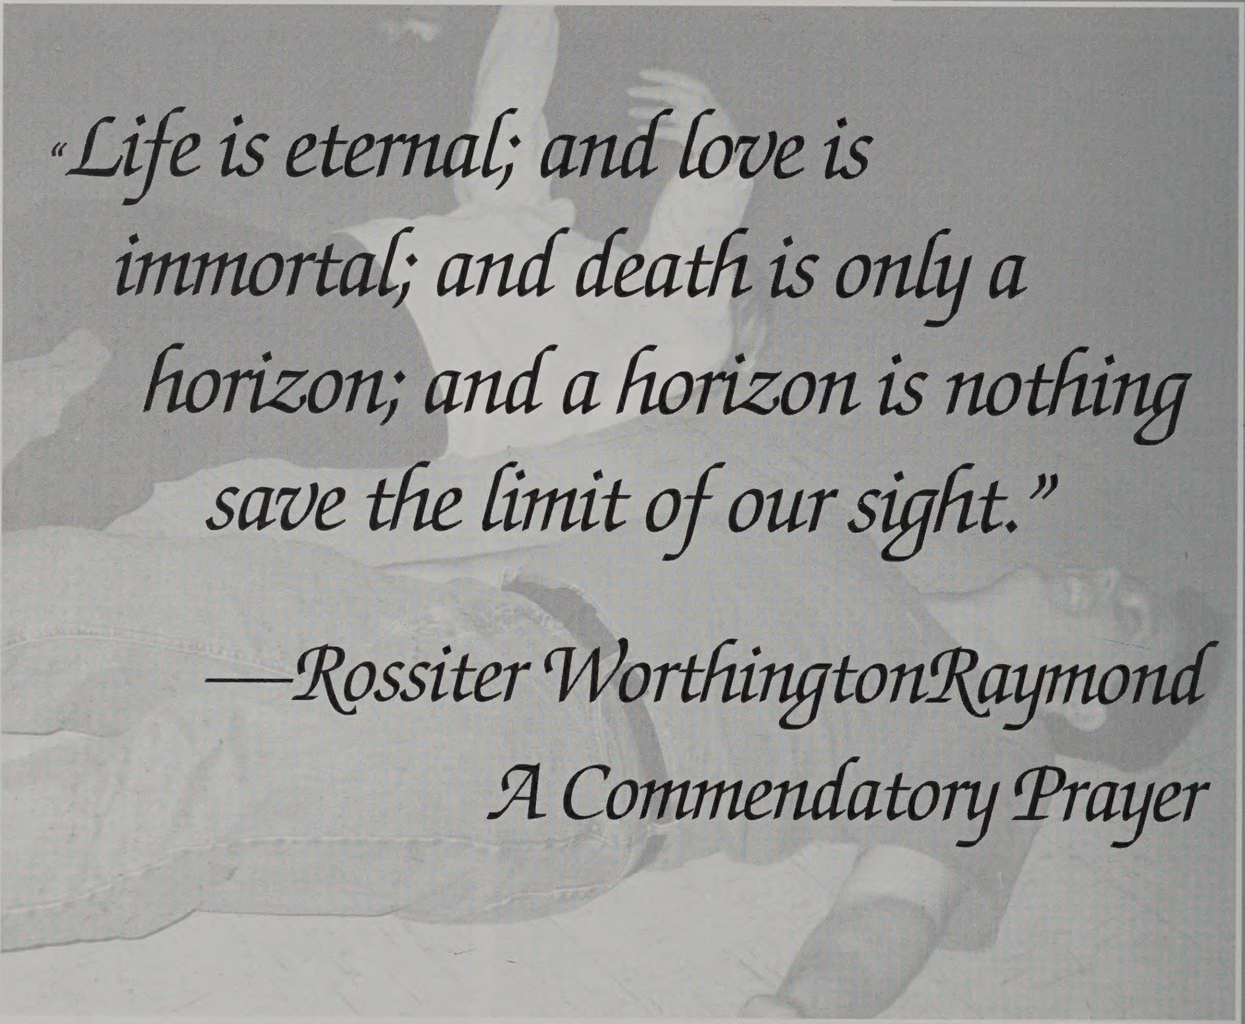
From Left: N. Williams, N. Campbell, M. Rooney, J. Colombo, A. Ogle. The Science Olympiad is a competion against other schools, in which students use their scientific intelligence. Come on, guys, go beat Coolidge!!!



"Nope, hasn't moved yet." Michael Rooney and Jeff Columbo inspect something on the table to prepare for the Science Olympiad.

"Are we really going to have to do this?" Caitlin Monat and Kristen Rooney ask Michelle Davis about the complicated trig problem she's struggling with.

Where Earth and Sky Meet



"Life is eternal; and love is immortal; and death is only a horizon; and a horizon is nothing save the limit of our sight."

—Rossiter WorthingtonRaymond
A Commendatory Prayer

Mrs. Sherman and Mr. Harhen collapse to the ground after a little too much . . . DANCING?!?!?! If only we could get them to be so crazy during class!

Looking back a few years at Mr. Crowley, it's hard to believe that he won't be here to teach us for another century. All of his "Ugly Little Gnomes" and "Yetis" will miss him very much. We thank him for being a wonderful teacher--and for showing us how much fun he is.
